In your four years at CRLS, miles of corridors have been travelled and scores of bridges have been crossed — from science labs in the Rindge building to piano labs on the subterranean level of the Arts building, from the stability of life as a child to the uncertainty of existence as a young adult, from learning facts and figures to challenging known philosophies. Physical, mental, and spiritual changes have been marked by the passing of tests, courses, trials, and time. The dreams and ideals that you have developed during this time are a foundation for the future. If what we have given of ourselves has aided you in your search for personal and universal excellence, we want you to know that you also have enriched our lives.

Best wishes to the Class of 1986

The Staff of Cambridge Rindge

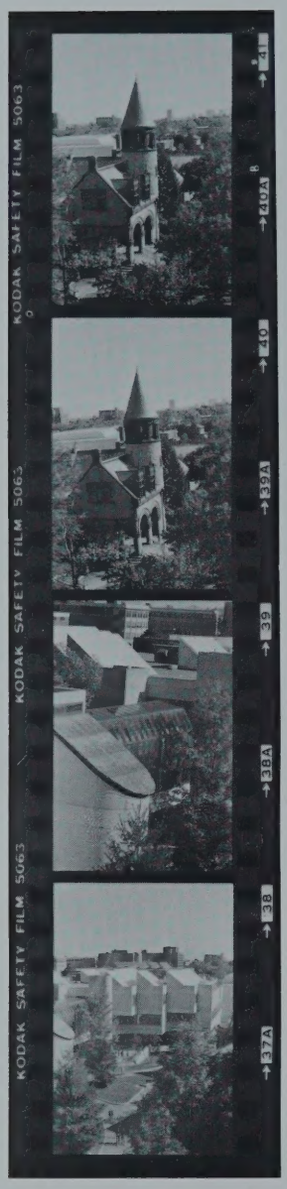
KALEIDOSCOPE

Because we, the Class of 1986, are a class of initiators, we think not about how to keep things the same, but how to bring about change for the better. So we, in the tradition of excellence, decided that it was time to give a name to our yearbook, a name which would encompass the unique spirit of our high school.

A kaleidoscope, through a scattering of colored glass, transforms the energy of light into many beautiful symmetrical patterns. So it is that the energy of the staff and the students at CRLS have transformed the dissonance of contrasting programs, interests, cultures, and races into ever-changing but consistently harmonious configurations.

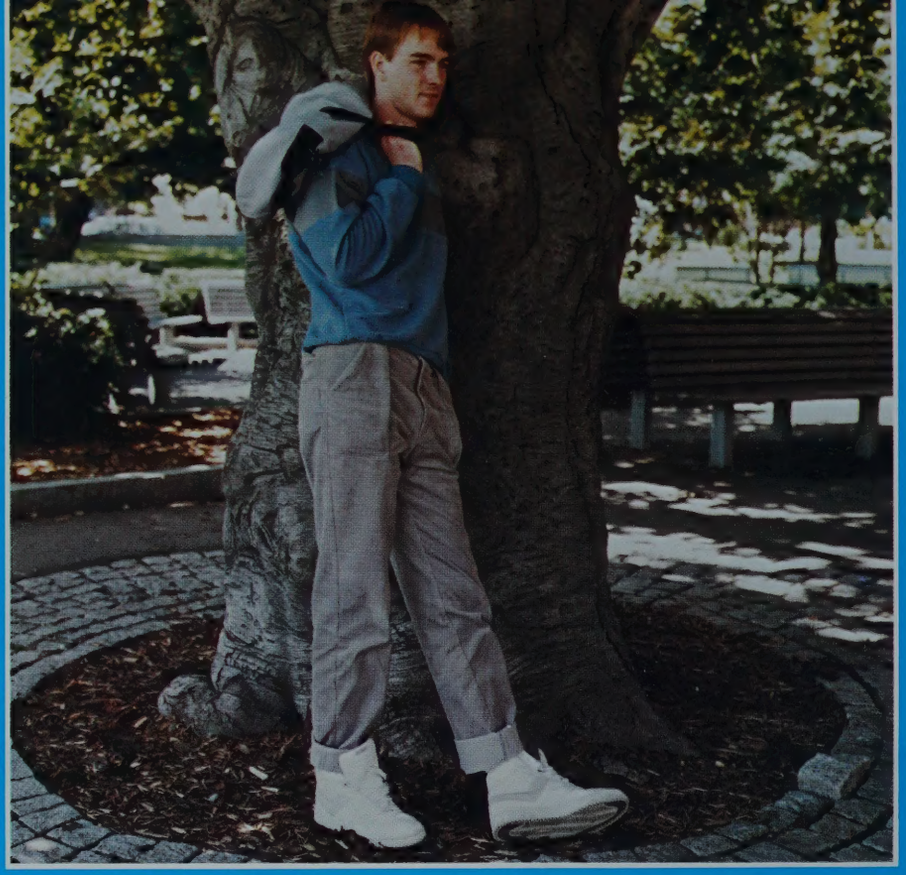
We present to you then, the first CRLS Kaleidoscope, a representation of our school, and the Class of 1986.



There are over sixty different nationalities represented at CRLS. This diversity has been an asset rather than a disadvantage. We have come from different schools, racial backgrounds, and cultures to form a unique academic community. Not only do we come to school to learn a variety of skills, but more importantly, we come together to learn from each other.

Together we make a completed puzzle; each part needing each other, and each part equally as important as the others. Coming together at CRLS is an experience that we will never forget.

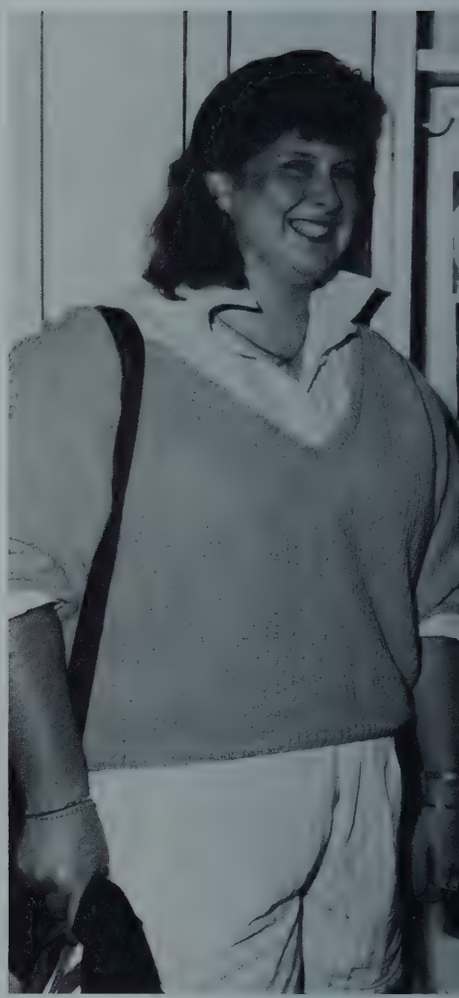
COMING TOGETHER



CAMPUS LIFE

The CRLS campus is truly one of the most attractive city high school campuses across the country. It is, in fact, so inviting that security often has to beg students to leave at the close of the school day.

In the fall, any of numerous perches along the paths through the library greens is the perfect place to continue a discussion or contemplate life. In the winter, when the snow starts to come down, the veritable fortress of the high school building is the best possible site for a full-scale snowball war (perhaps all the more so because snowball fights on campus are forbidden). And in the spring, with the coming of spring fever, students will think of any excuse to get teachers to conduct their classes somewhere out on the wide green expanse of grass at the front of the school.



SOCIAL

Newcomers and visitors to CRLS are often baffled by the sheer size of the student body. Often there seem to be more students than there actually are, because social life at CRLS is carried on everywhere: in corridors, cafeterias, at lockers, in stairwells and, for Juniors and Seniors, in the famous SSC. In this respect, CRLS is like any other highschool; the multiplicity of racial backgrounds may be distinctive, but the existence of cliques and gossip networks, the in-school dating scene and the combination of off-the-wall personalities make this school identical to high schools around the world.

LIFE

Now more than ever there is freedom in fashion. While ten and twenty years ago, there was one style that had to be followed by all of the "in" people, now, anything goes. Shoes range from traditional penny loafers and flats to combat boots. Boys can pierce and double pierce their ears, wear hot pink and Day-Glo blue. For girls, the mini skirt has come back to stay and pants are not neccessarily worn separately from skirts. Combining the fashion of yesterday with the imagination of tomorrow, the children of the 80's have truly created a style of their own.

STYLE?

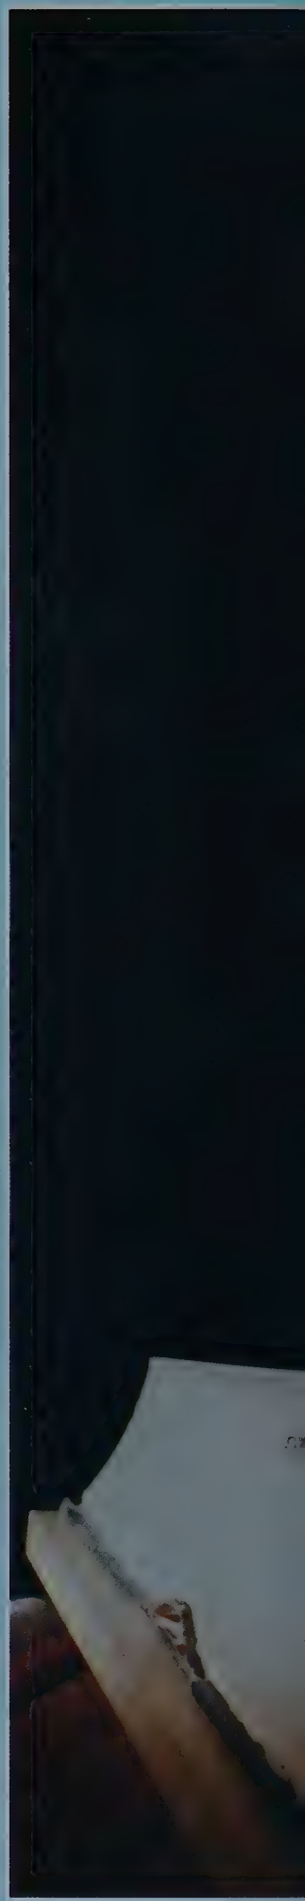
OPTIONS

Course options at CRLS allow students to add something from their particular interest to an otherwise complete schedule. Participation in optional programs and classes, whether they be for business or the Arts, helps students find out how interested they are in the corresponding careers and gives them the experience needed for a head start. For those students who don't plan to take what they have learned into the job market, these courses simply provide the opportunity to broaden their horizons, and have a little fun.

. . . and ACADEMIC LIFE

With all of the talking in hallways, going to games or dances, the fund-raisers, extra-curricular and special activities, sometimes the real purpose for being at CRLS becomes difficult to discern. The largest portion of our time has actually been spent in academic studies. Whether we were learning to solve a matrix or prepare a gourmet meal, what we have been taught here will be the foundation upon which we build our lives.

We have argued concepts and we have challenged ideas, to come, finally, to a new and unique realization of ourselves and the world. We have worked hard, experienced much anxiety and lived through our fears of failure, to achieve our personal best.



May I extend the congratulations and best wishes of the Cambridge School Department to the Class of 1986.

Your achievement at Cambridge Rindge and Latin School during your four years of study has demonstrated concern for excellence in education and the need to meet personal as well as community goals.

Graduation from high school, a memorable and honorable milestone, does not end your quest for excellence.

While you have met the prerequesites for a high school diploma, you must now seek to perfect your skills as you advance through a career and/or college.

The goal of excellence at work, in academics, and family relationships must be reached and reset in continuing cycles to establish a course allowing you to excell throughout your lives.

Good luck in the future.

Dr. Robert Peterkin
Superintendent of Schools

On Academic Excellence

The Cambridge Rindge and Latin School has a proud tradition of academic excellence. The class of 1986 is no exception. Your classmates have had the unique distinction of participating in two International Academic Decathlons, received 26 awards in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Examination, received numerous awards in Drama, Art, Music, and will gain admission to the most prestigious universities in the country.

As you look back on your high school years, the recurring theme, I hope, will be that of academic excellence. Excellence should be defined not only in terms of academic achievement, but also in the full realization of your academic potential.

The quest for academic excellence has been fostered and nurtured by your high school experience. By stressing the importance of academic excellence your teachers hoped to instill in you a desire to excel, as well as, to provide you with those skills which are needed to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

It is our hope that upon graduating, you will continue to develop and pursue the never ending search for academic excellence in a manner that best suits you.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The Staff wishes to acknowledge Ms. Betsy Grady for her proof advice. Mr. Leslie Kimbrough who generously contributed photographs for the Martin Luther King Jr. Assembly, Jesse Jackson's visit, and the Junior Class trip. Ms. Rife and her typing classes. Bob Elkins who raised more money in the sponsorship drive than anyone else, we gratefully acknowledge his spirit.

A special thanks to Daniel Carreiro and Paulino Leonardo for their many hours of hard work in school, and with each deadline they both took hours of work home.

Last but not least, our Yearbook editor, Susan Bascomb. This yearbook would not be what it is and without exaggeration may not have been completed if it were not for the many days and evenings of hard, tedious work. Her committment to this task is a tribute to her school spirit and a reflection of her personal integrity.

The 1986 Yearbook advisors, Joseph X. Sullivan and Al Ferreira, were consistently hard working and readily available for advice, assistance, and encouragement. Special thanks to them because of their persistence and dedication in spite of the many drawbacks.

For those of us who have lived in Cambridge for most of our lives, and aren't really planning to leave, the city has become entwined with our own personal histories. For others, thoughts of Cambridge and thoughts of our years here at CRLS will go hand in hand. In both cases, many of the little real-life dramas that were part of our growing up have been enacted here, in the stores, squares, streets and neighborhoods of Cambridge. We will always remember it.

BLOOD DRIVE

Each year, the Senior Class of CRLS hosts a Blood Drive sponsored by the Red Cross. The total donation from the Drive has always played an important part in helping to supplement the city's emergency blood supply. This year the need was greater than usual; many regular donors withdrew their support because of the raging epidemic of fear about the AIDS disease. However, with the help of Mr. McGillicudy, a Science teacher at CRLS who organizes the Blood Drive each year, the Red Cross staff was able to dispel enough of that fear to make the Blood Drive worthwhile. The nurses tested 56 potential donars, and were able to collect 48 pints of blood in all. Our Blood Drive was indeed a success.

MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. DAY

Members of the Black Student Union, the History department, and the Teaching Staff presented two programs to celebrate the first national holiday of the birthday of slain Civil Rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Participants of the assembly spoke about the Civil Rights Movement, past experiences, and taking the dream of Dr. King into the 21st century. On the following day guest speaker Charles Stith encouraged students to take pride in themselves and to achieve excellence in their future goals.

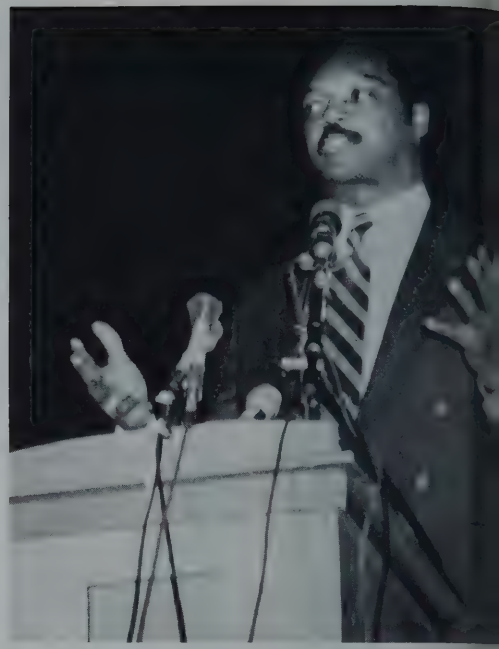
JESSE JACKSON



UP WITH HOPE, DOWN WITH DOPE

Reverend Jesse Jackson addressed an overflow crowd in the Fitzgerald Auditorium in March, 1985. He urged students to use their talents develop their intellects, and take positions of leadership in tomorrow's world. Stressing "attitude, aptitude, and appearance," Jackson warned today's youth not to surrender to the temptations of premature sex and drugs. More than 200 students repsonded to Jackson's plea that those in the audience who had abused drugs should stand.

Reverend Jackson returned to CRLS in the autumn of 1985 to attend a follow-up meeting with the confessed abusers.

The 85-86 boys swim team improved markedly over last year, raising its team record to .500 for the first time in three years. Led by senior captain Manny Pastreich and junior superstar Brett Lieberman, the mermen defeated Waltham, Arlington, Blue Hills, Quincy and Don Bosco. Much of the success could be attributed to newcomers Jason Agee, Jeremy Cantor, Bubby Hearn, Mark Nichols, Josh Pastreich, Damian Stowell, Dave Tabors, and Kevin West. Other standouts included co-captain Peter Schmidt, Seth Cooper, Josh Bartholomew, Olof Ehrenstrom, Salazar Silva, and Aleksi Suvanto. ALPINE CLUB

From its humble beginnings in 1977 to the current Ski Mania, the CRLS Alpine Ski Club has taken over 5,000 students up and down the "Mogully" slopes of New England. This year's total alone will approach 1,000, and along with the expanded Alpine Program in physical education, has taken our school by storm. Our Coordinator, Mike Krasnow, and past Directors George Greenidge and Mary Louise Piret, would like to thank all the teachers and staff who helped make the trip successful, especially Filomena Silva, John Samp, Mike Brown, and Les Kimbrough — who were always there when we needed them, and Brian Roach, who has helped train racers this year. And of course, a special thanks to Youth Enrichment Services Incorporated, without whom the activity would have been economically unfeasible.

We're traveling incognito.

Now where are those moguls I've heard so much about?

Skiing isn't so hard.

Jerome and Phil are unaware of being photographed.

Inku and Kristina, two who made it from the waiting list.

We didn't get much sleep last night.

Po Yu and Adam Robens — looking good for the camera.

D's and E's are ready for anything.

Jhoanna and Shi-Yuan are being watched by Charles.

Max emerges from an unexpected tumble in the woods.

"Bubbles" and Ma Stella will represent the Phillippines in the world cup competition.

Did you say you photograph for "G.Q."?

We're ready for the ski jump.

Come on, Mary Louise, spread your arms and you can fly like us.

The girls track team had a season worth remembering!

Led by co-captains Dawn Greenidge and Karon McCollin, the girls were undefeated league champs, winners of the Class A State Relays and runner-up in the Division 1 State Championship.

Several longstanding fieldhouse records were broken this year, by sophomore June Parks in the 600, Karon McCollin in the 50, and Carin Anderson in the 50 yard hurdles. Although integral members of the team are graduating, we hope for even more success in the upcoming years.

"Guys and Dolls," Frank Loesser's beautiful score for the "musical fable of Broadway" set in the 50's, was performed by the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School on July 18, 19, 20, 26, and 27th of 1985.

The cast of the musical deserves much credit, for most of the rehearsals were during the summer. The cast included: Chad Leith, Fanshen Cox, Kurt Stubbins, and Carin Anderson in major roles, with Ray Austrotas, Patrick Donnelly, Darin Evans, Adam Gulinello, Alex Gurevich, Chris Marstall, Ian Baring-Gould, Matt Damon, Tori Hunt, and James Roberts playing gamblers. Members of the mission were Jacques Joseph, Tarah Hilsman, Sara Lazar. Jessica Lynch and John Gibbins. Finally, the Hot Box girls summed up the cast with members including Traci Bingham, Reyna Castillo, Lisa Gurevich, Dana Jarvis, Melissa Marotto, Eunice Rodrigues, Cindy Smith, Heather Thompson, Susan Walter, and Jason Carr as Lt. Brannigan. Overall, Guys and Dolls was an overwhelming success!

DRAMA

'Lysistrata', written in 412 B.C. by Aristophanes, is a cautionary tale concerning a woman's strike for peace. The plot centers around Lysistrata, the determined Athenian, who organizes and unites women of the warring city-states of Greece to wage a strike against their bellicose men until all arms are laid aside.

The CRLS production of Lysistrata was presented in December of 1985. The cast was composed of a large number of talented CRLS students. The multi-leveled set designed by Richard J. Geffen.

Produced by Gerry Speca, Lysistrata is a comedy that highlights the similarities between Ancient Greece and the Modern World.

IN MEMORIAM

Antoine Hyppolite
1935-1986

Students and staff were saddened to learn of the death of Mr. Antoine Hyppolite in January, 1986. Born and educated in Haiti, Mr. Hyppolite taught school in Africa before coming to the U.S. in 1974. He joined the faculty of CRLS in 1982, and taught Social Studies in the Bilingual Department.

IN MEMORIAM

Joseph F. Maynard

A staunch advocate for poor and learning disabled students, School Commitee Member, Joseph F. Maynard died in November, 1985. He had served on the School Committee from 1955 to 1961, and from 1969 to his death. Mr. Maynard dedicated his efforts to the children of Cambridge. We shall miss him.

IN MEMORIAM

Leonard J. Russell
1932-1985

A true friend to the students of Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, Mayor Russell was the main speaker at the CRLS graduation on June 3, 1985. He addressed the 517 graduates telling them. "You are truly champions", and urged them always "to maintain a balance between pride and humility."

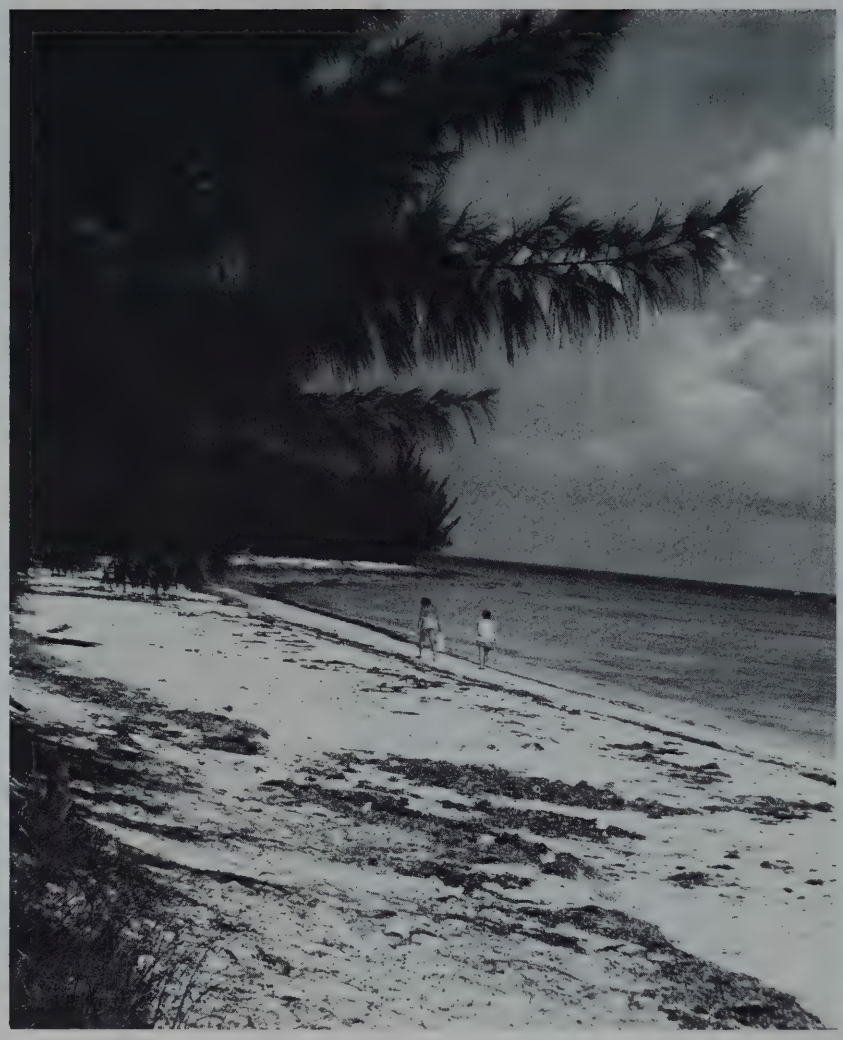
SENIOR TRIP



FREEPORT

On location, photographers Victor Garcia, Kevin Keegan, James Speros, Kevin Smith.

High expectations washed away with rain on our arrival.

BAHAMAS

On Friday morning, March 21st, the Senior class waited for two hours while the landing gear thawed out. Finally, airborne, Jane Jackson put in a few good words for everyone.

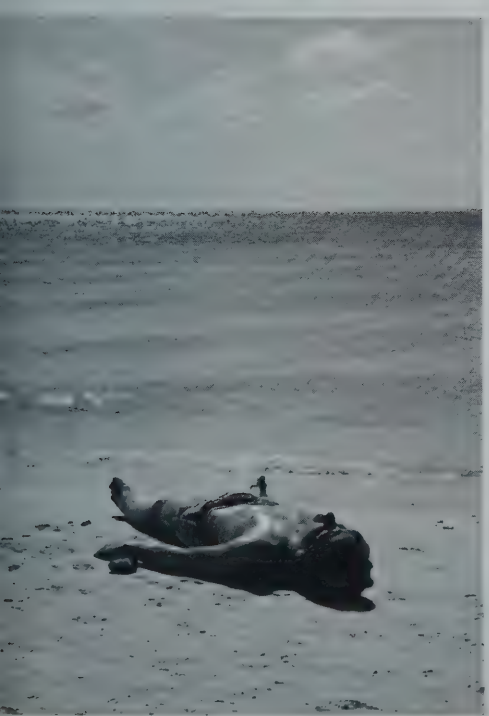
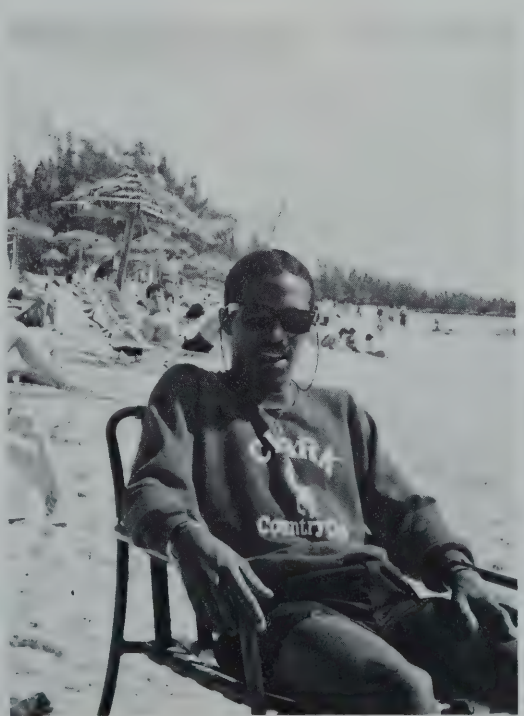
Welcome to the Bahamas





WILDERNESS CAMPING

Phil and Leslie pause for reflection

C'mon Greenage, tell us one more scary story

Wok-fried garlic chicken tonight on a roaring fire!

All water and still smiling

Happy to be at the top of the world

Hey Knox, are you sure this bridge is going to hold us?

Up a lazy river . . .

Tracy, Nick and Abe get sucked in for the plunge

Taxi!

Only 3 days and 50 miles later, and we're back at the van!

I wish my partner would paddle

Just a gigolo — Norman Fu displays displays the lastest in headgear

Son, if you marry my daughter someday this will all be yours

Yes Amy, I am laughing at your shorts

PROGRAMS

CBLP

The Community Based Learning Program provides students with the opportunity to select a community based internship experience, participate in classes held in the community, or to enroll in an academic college level course.

Students who select internships gain first-hand experience in their chosen field, investigate different types of career, or use the community to enhance their academic skills.

Students may also apply to take a college level course at a local college or university. Upon special application, some of the courses may carry curriculum credit toward graduation requirements.

Under the supervision of Bob Richards and Linore Sizemore, the Community Based Learning Program allows students to broaden their academic horizons in their community.

Stephen Allen (DJ Freeze)

Lori Madison (China Tea), and Suzette Alvarado (Suzy-Q)

Radio Broadcast Journalism is a ten credit English course offered at the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School. It is a full-year course in which students are guaranteed to learn about all aspects of radio, from writing and reading news to engineering a live program.

The Radio Staton, WRLS, is chiefly responsible for some of the hottest school activities ever. For example, WRLS brought you lip-snych '85 last year, which was an awesome success. WRLS will be repeating this contest this year when we bring you the "Copy Cats" Lip-Synch '86 this March. But that is just a sampling of what WRLS has to offer. Aside from all the fun we have here at the station, the course is excellent "hands-on" training for a career in Radio Broadcasting.

Many students who take the course are successful in obtaining internships at local radio stations. Other WRLS alumni go on to major in communications and to work in college radio.

WRLS RADIO

Rodney Jewer, Andre Rolle, Mac Randall, Lori Madison, Mark Duarte, Suzette Alvarado, Qualter Almeida, and Ron Hubbard.

Irene Munroe, Supervisor for Teacher Cafe and Kelle Mearn, student.

ENTERPRISE CO-OP

Enterprise Co-op is an alternative career-oriented program for dropouts and potential dropouts. The program is unique in that it involves student-run businesses. A woodshop and extensive food services are operated in an atmosphere that stimulates the real business world. Students receive share in the co-op based on their productivity and their dividend checks reflect the increase or decrease in profits for a particular pay period.

The academic curriculum relates directly to the students' experiences in the businesses. In addition to a standard curriculum of English, Math and Social Studies, students also participate in and receive credit for their contributions to decision-making meetings at which policies and problems are addressed. The emphasis in all aspects of the program is on increasing the student's self-confidence and personal growth and development.

It is anticipated that, after one year of participation in Enterprise Co-op, a student will be prepared either to re-enter the mainstream high school program, or to secure entry-level employment in a career of his/her own choosing.

Audrey Dobson putting away the day's dessert — Crocquembouche.

John Greco, Technical Assistant, checks the progress of Vilma Cirilo's Spanish omelet sauce.

Joe LeBlanc puts the finishing touches on a sauce.

Culinary Arts at C.R.L.S. revolves around the student-operated Cantabrigia Restaurant. Under the tutelidge of experienced, professional chefs, students prepare and plan meals for groups ranging in number from 4 people to 400.

All phases of food preparations are studied. These include reading recipes, French cooking terminology, meat cutting, making stocks, soups, sauces, baking breads and pastries, analyzing food costs, menu planning and ordering. Gourmet cooking and decorative food work, including ice sculptures, are emphasized.

Graduates are working in the local hotels are restaurants of the area. Others continue on to colleges for further study and degrees in Hotel and Restaurant management.

CAREER RESOURCE CENTER

The Career Resource Center provides students with current resources for career development, exploration, practical application, and follow-up; assists teachers in the development of career education techniques that could be applied to curriculum and provides a counseling component that is directly tied to college and career choices. Among the techniques used are mini courses, speakers' bureau (including college and careers), job shadowings and student — parent information nights.

MONTROSE MARKET

We've Got What You Need Everyday

Student life

Cambridge is known for its student life, and there's no doubt that the whirlwind of activity surrounding the city's schools keeps the city young. A lot of visitors report that when they go to Cambridge they just like to hang around "where the students are" to get a feel for the excitement of youth, when everything is possible. If you want to get a sense of this dynamic scene yourself, we suggest a visit to the following hangouts.

★★★Montrose Market/Mass. House of Pizza/Angelo's Pizza. These three institutions, which surround the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, hop with activity during the high school's lunch hour. According to the clerk at the Montrose Market, visitors are guaranteed plenty of student activity at these spots. "The students aren't allowed to go more than a block away during lunch hour, so they have to go to these three places." he explains. "Sage's won't let them in, and neither will the Broadway Super Market, so they don't have much choice."

The most popular student activities during lunch hour include buying a Coke and a slice of pizza, snacking on a bag of Doritos, or simply relaxing with a Mountain Dew. A word to the wise: the crowd at the Montrose gets so heavy during lunch hour that the store has a doorman who only lets a few students in at a time, a la Studio 54. So look sharp if you want to squeeze into this student hot spot.

Our rating system:
★★★Excellent — don't miss it!
••Good — worth a detour
★Interesting — passable if visiting means waiting for the "walk" signal.

Students, lend us your ears, we'll lend you some money!

Student loans are available from Cambridge Trust Company now and they are the best deal around. If you qualify, these loans are government supported and at very advantageous terms for the student. And the credit and income requirements are very lenient when compared to standard loan requirements. So drop in at any of our offices and ask about our student loan program. You'll probably find it's the easiest part of your academic program.
